

KRISTIN AMPARO

“Ella Fitzgerald, Nina Simone, Amy Winehouse and Björk merged into one person with a voice and charisma of her own”

Kristin Amparo is a vocalist and songwriter on the rise to worldwide recognition for her unstoppable and seemingly unlimited artistry and vocal abilities whether it be live on stages or in the studio. She’s already had her breakthrough in Sweden in co-writing and singing on the number 1 hit “Your Soldier” with the artist Albin. She is also the unmistakable voice behind the dance music monster hit “Dance Your Tears Away” by John De Sohn. Kristin Amparo has worked with most of the Swedish music elite including Nina Persson of Cardigans, Oskar Linros, Daniel Adams-Rey and Looptroop Rockers just to name a few. Moving freely across genres she has been a strong force in the hiphop collective Fentastic, making hits with the hyped Swedish rapper Cleo and at the same time writing music and performing with the ultra cool retro outfit of souljazz group Combo De La Musica.

In 2015 Kristin participated in The Melody Festival and performed the critically acclaimed song “I See You” that later sold gold. With a background in jazz education at the Royal College of Music in Stockholm it is no real surprise that the recent jazz release “A Dream” has been incredibly well received by critics and fans. Kristin is currently touring with one of Swedens foremost jazz trios with the material from the new record.
